High School Diploma and GED Programs

A High School Diploma or a GED can increase job opportunities, help you prepare for better career opportunities, prepare you for community college, and qualify you for financial aid to further your education. We offer quality teacher-led instruction, distance learning, or online study options across programs—the majority of which are open entry. Take the next step toward your success today!

- High School Diploma Program

Earn credits toward a high school diploma. Instruction is individualized, so each student works on the specific they need. Courses are textbook and computer-based. Teachers are always available to work one-on-one with students. Goal setting, skill building, and career and life planning are incorporated into the classes. To enroll in the High School Diploma Program, you must first attend a mandatory 3-hour Zoom orientation and placement test.

- GED Preparation Programs

We recommend our GED program to students who need more than 30 credits. They will complete classwork and GED practice tests to prepare for the official GED exams. We are also offering Spanish GED classes. San Mateo & Career Education is an official GED TEST SITE. A GED passing score is 145 to 200. Visit www.ged.com to register for the official GED test(s).
